Zscaler launches AI agents for security operations

Zscaler says Agentic SOC is available globally. SailPoint grows, two acquisitions complete, and the EU cybersecurity agency gains restricted model access.

— SECURITY OPERATIONS

Zscaler says Agentic SOC is available globally

- Zscaler says Agentic SOC is available globally. The company says its AI agents handle alert triage, investigation, verdicts and response.
- Zscaler says it combines Anthropic and OpenAI models with its security data and Red Canary threat hunters.
- Our view: This weakens AI startups' claim to offer unique capabilities. Customer results will determine how well the product delivers.

— ACQUISITIONS

Keyfactor and Kiteworks complete acquisitions

- Keyfactor completed its Cofide acquisition. The price was not disclosed.
- Keyfactor says Cofide gives software workloads and AI agents short-lived cryptographic identities, replacing static passwords and long-lived tokens.
- Kiteworks acquired Bonfy.AI. The price was not disclosed.
- Kiteworks says Bonfy.AI classifies sensitive data and enforces policy as it moves through email, file sharing, applications and AI agents.

— FRONTIER AI MODELS

EU cybersecurity agency gains model access

- The European Union Agency for Cybersecurity gained access to Anthropic's Claude Mythos 5 and OpenAI's GPT-6 Astra.
- It is the first EU institution admitted to Anthropic's controlled-access programme. European Commission spokesman Thomas Regnier confirmed the access.
- Mythos 5.1 is excluded. Negotiations reportedly took three months, complicated by US export controls.
- Why it matters: access expanded to one institution. This does not establish wider public access.
